Overview

This document contains the requirements based on citizenship status, prior study, and English language tests. It also indicates requirements for conditional offers, package offers, waivers and study abroad/exchange applications.

Scope

This policy applies across the University and to applicants entering ANU in 2019. For those applying for entry in 2020, please note this policy is currently under review.

5. The most recent evidence will be used as proof of English language proficiency.
6. The University reserves the right to change an unconditional offer of admission to conditional on meeting English language requirements, if subsequent evidence is provided which demonstrates that the applicant's English language proficiency is insufficient.

7. The University reserves the right to request that an applicant undergoes an English test in addition to any other evidence of English proficiency provided.

13. Study undertaken must result in a sequence of study or qualification which is accepted for entry into ANU undergraduate programs.

14. For the purposes of clause 10, successful completion is considered to be a pass result in no less than 50 per cent of attempted units/courses in any assessable period (for example, term or semester) in the academic year.

15. Applicants who complete a qualification listed in Table 5 must achieve specified levels to meet the university's English language requirements. These specific achievement levels are detailed in Table 5.

Graduate Applicants

16. Applicants to graduate programs must have successfully completed two years of full-time (or equivalent) tertiary education within the last four years, in the medium of English. Study must be undertaken at a recognised institution, in the national education system (or equivalent) of a Group A country listed under clause 8.
