Overview
This document contains the requirements based on citizenship status, prior study, and English language tests. It also indicates requirements for conditional offers, package offers, waivers and study abroad/exchange applications.

Scope
This policy applies across the University.

Policy Statement
2. This policy should be read in conjunction with relevant legislation and academic eligibility requirements of the ANU, and applies to all programs.

5. The most recent evidence will be used as proof of English language proficiency.
6. The University reserves the right to change an unconditional offer of admission to conditional on meeting English language requirements, if subsequent evidence is provided which demonstrates that the applicant's English language proficiency is insufficient.
7. The University reserves the right to request that an applicant undergoes an English test in addition to any other evidence of English proficiency provided.
8. Applicants may be deemed to have satisfied the University's English language requirements if they can provide evidence that they meet one of the following principles:

14. For the purposes of clause 10, successful completion is considered to be a pass result in no less than 50 per cent of attempted units/courses in any assessable period (for example, term or semester) in the academic year.

15. Applicants who complete a qualification listed in Table 5 must achieve specified levels to meet the university’s English language requirements. These specific achievement levels are detailed in Table 5.

Graduate Applicants

16. Applicants to graduate programs must have successfully completed two years of full-time (or equivalent) tertiary education within the last four years, in the medium of English. Study must be undertaken at a recognised institution, in the national education system (or equivalent) of a Group A country listed under clause 8.

17. Where study is undertaken in a country not listed under clause 8, documentary evidence which confirms that the tertiary qualification was taught and assessed entirely in English, must be presented. Applicants must have successfully completed two years of full-time (or equivalent) tertiary education within the last four years.
